

MEDIA ACCREDITATION FOR THE FESTIVAL

Rules and Regulations

11th International Festival of Topical Animation and Media Arts (September 15-18) invites journalists and media representatives for cooperation. Please read the rules and terms of accreditation carefully.

ACCREDITATION TERMS

1. PRESS accreditation is provided to the employees of official media (registered printed publications, radio and television, information and entertainment Internet portals and websites) to cover the festival events. To apply for an accreditation, it is necessary to fill out an electronic form published at the following link (<https://goo.gl/forms/FUGVrkn6cVWo6L382>) until September 11, 2016.
3. Linoleum press service reserves the right to request additional materials from the applicant and/or refuse an accreditation if the application does not meet the described requirements or the journalist does not abide by the rules of work at the festival.
4. Each media category has its maximal accreditation quota, which is*:
for TV channels, four persons for printed media, two persons for online media, two persons for radio stations, one person
* The need for an amount of accreditations exceeding the quota for a publication must be substantiated and confirmed by an official letter from a project / publication manager.
5. The journalist who has obtained an accreditation from the festival shall provide the copies of materials about LINOLEUM festival (.pdf, video, audio, hyperlinks) within the term established by the press service.
6. Receiving a PRESS accreditation means automatic inclusion of the journalist's email in LINOLEUM press service mailing list (news, press releases, information for accredited media).

RULES OF MEDIA ACCREDITATION FOR LINOLEUM

The filled out applications (<https://goo.gl/forms/FUGVrkn6cVWo6L382>) are reviewed within five working days. During this time, the organizers might request additional information and materials. The accreditation confirmation is an official letter from festival organizers. Applying does not guarantee an accreditation.

Applications are accepted until September 11, 2016 (inclusive).

An accreditation bracelet is the journalist's property and cannot be transferred to third persons.

An accreditation bracelet is valid for all four days of the festival; it can be obtained directly at the entrance in the cashier's window after presenting a printed out accreditation confirmation letter. The cashier's desk is open from noon till 6 PM from September 15 till September 18.

PRESS accreditation means free access to all festival events, i.e. screenings and lectures, without preliminary registration.

To respect copyright laws and also for the convenience of the audience, photo and video filming during festival screenings of competition and non-competition programs is prohibited. The photo and video materials to the films can be provided by the press service.

We are looking forward to seeing you at Linoleum 2016, the 11th Festival of Topical Animation and Media Arts. We are convinced that thanks to you Linoleum will become one of the main large-scale cultural events of this autumn!
